

CONTEXT

A photograph of a male driver wearing a tan shirt and a grey cap, sitting in the driver's seat of a white truck. He is looking out the window towards a warehouse with large white roll-up doors. A yellow forklift is visible in the background. The scene is set outdoors during the day.

A Driver's attention is limited in a demanding and dangerous environment. Getting to ride along, and experience the actual context was eye-opening